

THERESIA HOECK

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Teaching

- * Senior Lecturer in German at the Department of German and Russian, University of Vermont 2004-present; Lecturer in German 1990, 1992-1994, and 1996-2004.
- * Lecturer in German at the Department of Modern Languages, St. Michael's College, 1997-present.
- * Taught languages at the elementary, secondary, and college levels both in classroom situations and on a one-on-one basis.
- * Taught languages to adults with the emphasis on cultural awareness and appreciation of ethnic diversity.

Counseling

- * Assisted foreign students of all ages with integrating into a new school environment and making curriculum choices.
- * Helped students identify, accept, and utilize their individual skills, abilities, interests, and aspirations.
- * Acted as liaison between the students, teachers, administrators, and support service providers in the community.
- * Supervised teenagers who counseled their peers on the hotline.

Assessment

- * Evaluated individual students' learning modes and academic performances to select appropriate instructional strategies.
- * Administered psychometric tests and interpreted test data.
- * Conducted intake interviews and initial assessments of college students seeking general counseling.

THERESIA HOECK

Page Two

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

2004-present	Senior Lecturer: German	University of Vermont
1999-2007	Director: German House Program	University of Vermont
1996-2004	Lecturer: German	University of Vermont
1992-1994		Burlington, Vermont
Spring 1990
1987-1989
1997-present	Lecturer: German	St. Michael's College Colchester, Vermont
1994-2000	Crisis Clinician	The Howard Center for Human Services, Burlington, Vermont
1980-present	Tutor: Private business teaching German and English as a Second Language	Self-employed
1994	Faculty Consultant for the Advanced Placement Reading Examination	Educational Testing Service Princeton, New Jersey
1988	Lecturer: German	Burlington College Burlington, Vermont
1970-1980	Market Researcher	Austrian Radio and Television, Vienna, Austria

EDUCATION

M.A., Counseling Psychology, Antioch New England Graduate School, 1992.

M.A., German, University of Vermont, 1989.

B.A., English/German Translation and Interpretation, University of Vienna, Austria, 1972.

Education courses leading to a teacher's certification for secondary schools,
University of Vermont, 1986.

Education courses leading to a guidance counselor's certification for K-12,
Johnson State College, 1996.